1	i spent about 1-2 hours a week on this class
2	around 4
3	about 2-3 hours per week
4	It is all dependent on how much you study, and the homework assignments did not take very long at all. During the week of the exam, I spent roughly 4-10 hours studying for the exam.
5	I spent roughly 2-3 hours per week on this course outside of the classroom.
6	Depending on how much work I had during the week, I would spend around 2 to 3 hours reviewing over the material, making sure I understood what I was learning.
7	About 2 hours studying

1	the instructor is very knowledgeable on the subject being taught
2	i really had no strengths but i knew some of the stuff
3	great teacher who went in depth over the material and presented it in a way that made since
4	all
5	The organization of the materials
6	The instructor is really good at providing plenty of review materials for the students prior to exams.
7	The instructor was very detailed yet straightforward with his explanations of the material, making it easy to understand and often clarified on the things that others may not have initially gotten at first.
8	The information and graphs that the instructor used were very informative.
9	The homework's were extremely helpful.
10	Lectures were very easy to follow along and very descriptive. As long as you copied down and knew what he wrote on the board you would pass the course. Also despite his absence from the class many times due to personal reasons he would make use of technology continue to teach the class remotely or even let us present our projects remotely. I respect the amount of dedication this must've as many professors would have simply cancelled classes and excluded large portions of the course.
11	In class lectures.

12	I think it is a good foundation for the business school, but I think there could be more diverse topics that we learn about. Maybe more real-life examples?
13	He was very knowledgable in ECON
14	Grew understanding in comparing and understanding graphs.

Q15 - What recommendations would you suggest for improving this course and/or instruction?
Instructions: Please consider how much you have learned in this course. This includes the concepts covered in the class and any professional skills that are associated with this area of study.
Response Rate:	78.95% (15 of 19)
1	things seemed crammed at the end of the semester, more time could've been spent on trade.
2	nothing really. he did a good job teaching
3	none
4	none
5	more feedback on work
6	There should be a bit more emphasis on class participation, as it feels like the class does not do much except copy notes and answer a few questions.
7	The graphs make good examples and understanding but he made them too jumbled up with the amount of information put on them at one time. So clearer note taking would be easier
8	None in particular.
9	N/A
10	Maybe post some more materials on canvas for studying.
11	I would not recommend anything to change
12	I really don't have any recommendations for improving this course.
13	Giving feedback regularly and swiftly. Being more clear in the notes and homework
14	Although we engaged with the material in the form of the essay and presentation I feel as if there wasn't much engagement in the lectures themselves. Apart from occasionally asking questions to the class it was mostly just writing down whatever the professor put on the board. This ultimately was not too much of an issue but sometimes I found myself phasing out and just writing down what was said without really listening.
